HINTS TO COUNTY WOOL GROWERS

Shearing Season at Hand and County Agent Lends Advice About Clipping Fleece.

Of all years, at least to the present, 1920 presents conditions such as will warrant the grading of wools. In seasons such as this buyers see things thru peculiar eyes and it should not be surprising if a slight tendency to under-grade wools were to make itself manifest. The situation this year is entirely the reverse of what obtained last year and we find a wide spread between the price of fine wool and quarter blood. Accurate grading is therefore more important, especially from the income standpoint, than in many years past, and farmers whether operating thru the county wool pool or individually, should take pains to separate all their fine wools from quarter and low quarter blood.

The lowering of the grade upon a small quantity of wools, particularly if this might mean the dropping from a quarter to a low quarter grade, will mean much of gain to the buyer and much of loss to the producer of the wools.

The shearing season is near at hand, and wool growers throughout the county should see that the wool is clipped when the fleeces are perfectly dry, keep the tags separate from fleeces, and tie fleeces inside out with wool twine. Do not tie fleeces with binder twine, as it will not take a dye and you will be docked for using it. A pound of wool twine will tie forty fleeces, and can be obtained from the American Core Twine Co., 60 Fulda St., Boston, Mass.

The County Farm Bureau is making arrangements for forming a County Wool-Pool. Watch the local papers and lend your support to the movement. Nolan H. Loy, County Agent, Hardinsburg, Ky.

FORD PLANT AT LOUISVILLE

Closes Down on Account of Freight Traffic Situation. 245 Men Idle.

Louisville, May 17.—On account of the freight traffic situation, the Ford Motor Company of this city closed down its plant here. All work at the plant was stopped and 245 men are idle.

MISS CHAMBLISS TO SPEND VACATION IN HARDINSBURG.

Miss Ruth Chambliss, who has been one of the popular members of the Cloverport Public school faculty, left Saturday for Hardinsburg where she will spend her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Mary Chambliss.

Miss Chambliss taught the Fourth and Fifth grade pupils here for two years and was very successful in her work. She will probably accept a place in one of the public schools in the East next year.

H. C. L. DRIVES CHILDREN FROM HOME

Ky. Children's Home Cares for 230 Children. Many Made Orphans by "Flu" Epidemic.

Mr. E. H. Collins, representing the Kentucky Children's Home Society, was in Cloverport, Thursday in the interest of the home.

Mr. Collins reports that $100,000,000 of the $300,000,000 campaign to build a new home had been raised, and another effort would be made this fall to raise the remainder. Breckinridge county gave $100,039 of its $200,000 quota in the campaign.

Last winter the home cared for 230 children. Thirty of this number have been placed in private homes this spring. Mr. Collins stated that influenza and the high cost of living were the causes for so many more children in the home this year than ever before. Many of them are children from the mountains where the influenza was so prevalent and who were left orphans. Others have been sent to the home because of the high cost of food and their parents could not support them.

According to Mr. Collins statement it takes 7 boxes of oatmeal every morning for breakfast, 35 pounds of beef on meat days, 7 pounds of canned tomatoes and 1 1/2 bushels of potatoes for one meal. With the increased cost of food he said, the home would not have sufficient means to meet its expenses this year.

MR. BALDRIDGE CLOSING BUSINESS HERE.

Mr. J. D. Baldridge has closed his season's purchase of tobacco and returned to his home in Louisville. He will be here again when the new crop is ready for market. He purchased here and in Stephensport around 3,000,000 pounds.

CLOSING EXERCISES FOR '20 CLASS

Church Entirely Filled to See Graduating Exercise of C. H. S. Class Colors Used For Decoration.

Green and white, the class colors for the 1920 graduating class of the Cloverport High School, were used attractively in the decorations for the commencement exercises which were held in the Methodist church on Friday evening. The entire church was filled even beyond its seating capacity.

The church chancel was banked with snowballs in great profusion, and English ivy and potted plants were used to carry out the green.

Green and white streamers hung from the chandeliers, and the class motto "Quod Facimus Bene Faciamus" was lettered in green on white background and hung back of the chancel.

The four young girl graduates, Misses Marian Allen, Gladys Hemphill, Elsie May and Lillian Buckley were very becomingly attired in sheer white frocks and each wore a corsage of valley lilies, the class flower. The flower girls were: Misses Eleanor Reid, Selma Sippel, Eva Jolly and Winifred Buckley.

The musical numbers on the program were directed by Miss Eva L. May assisted by her sister, Miss Eliza May, the accompanist.

The class address was delivered by Prof. G. M. Baker, of the University of Kentucky. His subject, "Men of Vision," was a very happy inspiration of the magnanimous things that men and women may accomplish if they first get the vision of what there is to be done.

The entire program consisted of the following:

Invocation—Rev. J. R. Randolph

Chorus (a) Hurrah for the Holidays

(b) Hark the Merry Bells

High School Girls

Salutatory, Address—Gladys Hemphill

Better Americans, Inc., Address

Elsie L. May

An Order for a Picture, Reading

Marian Allen

Valedictory, Address—Lillian Buckley

Chorus, Amoroso—High School Girls

Class Address, Men of Vision

Prof. G. M. Baker

Presentation of Diplomas

Supt. O. F. Galloway

Benediction—Rev. J. R. Randolph

Miss Eva L. May, Director

Miss Eliza H. May, Accompanist

DRY ENFORCEMENT PLANK WANTED

So. Baptists Urge Both Parties to Adopt Plank. Gambrell Elected Pres. Ky. Del.

Washington, May 13.—Resolutions calling on both the Democratic and Republican parties to adopt a plank declaring strongly for the enforcement of the prohibition amendment and not to nominate any candidate for the presidency who is not known to be committed to that policy were adopted today by a rising vote of the Southern Baptist convention, in session here.

The resolutions charged that "the brewers and their paid attorneys are making every possible effort to circumvent and nullify the law by making beer and wine the entering wedge for the return of the saloon."

President Wilson, in a letter today to the convention, said it was of "special significance and timeliness that a great Christian convention should be held in Washington, because the nation now faces nothing less than the question whether it is to help the Christian people in other parts of the world to realize their ideals of justice and ordinary peace."

"I am sure," Mr. Wilson wrote, "that the nation will listen with the greatest deference to the utterances of the convention."

J. B. Gambrell, Dallas, Tex., yesterday was elected for the fourth time as president of the convention. Dr. W. W. Landrum, Russellville, Ky., former pastor of the Broadway church Louisville, was nominated for the presidency, but withdrew when it was learned that Mr. Gambrell would accept another term.

Dr. Landrum was elected one of the three vice presidents; George W. Norton, Louisville, was elected treasurer, and William Patrick Harvey, Kentucky, auditor.

The Daviess County Kentucky club of Washington, gave a banquet this afternoon to the delegation from Daviess county. Harold Jesse, formerly of Owensboro, was chairman of the entertainment committee.

Kentuckians Registered.

Among those who registered from Kentucky, A. N. Couch, Bardwell, Mrs. H. L. Bell, Guston, Rev. Russell Walker, Hartford; H. L. Jarboe, Patesville; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Westfield, R. L. Brandenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wilson, Fordsville; Edward Nall, Irvine.

MICHAEL CRAHAN DEAD.

Irvington, May 18. (Special)—Michael Crahan, an old resident of this place died Monday night after a lingering illness with cancer of the lip.

Two sisters survive him, Misses Mary and Annie Crahan. His remains were taken to Leitchfield for burial.

KY. BAPTISTS OVER THE TOP

The Kentucky Baptist have done a splendid work in their drive for seventy-five million for their church. This is a great occasion for rejoicing among all the members and especially the workers.

The Kentucky Baptist have paid in cash to May 1, 1920, $1,355,366.51; $770,979.77 of this cash was received through the budget and $584,386.74 received through the different interests and institutions co-operating in the budget thus making more than one-fifth of their quota for the five years.

In a letter to the Directors, Mr. John L. Hill, says, "God has been mighty good to us, let's come into his presence with humility and with thanksgiving and praise."

COUNTY AGENT LOY RESIGNS

No Provisions Made Yet by Fiscal Court to Pay County's Part on County Agent's Salary.

It is with regret that I find it necessary to hand in my resignation as County Agricultural Agent of Breckinridge County at this time. Doubly so as we have a growing and active Farm Bureau of one hundred and fifty members that absolutely must have a County Agent behind it to direct and encourage its growth if it is going to become of any value to the farmers of Breckinridge county. This Bureau can be of unestimated value to the county agent in encouraging and co-operating with him in his work in the county.

As one of the Progressive farmers of Breckinridge county, and you who are members of the Farm Bureau (one of the greatest farmers organization in America today) realize that it would be a step backwards for the county to discontinue county agent work at this time. The farmers during the ensuing year are going to realize the value of organization as never before and should welcome the aid and presence of a county agent in the county.

The present appropriation for county agent work ends July 1st. No provision has been made by the Fiscal Court for the continuance of the work after the above mentioned date. It rests with you as one of the progressive farmers of the county as to whether the work will be continued and Breckinridge county listed as one of the live and foremost counties in the state of Kentucky, or if you are going to let this opportunity slip by, and lost all that has been accomplished in the county thru extension work during the past two years. A number of projects and demonstration plots are under way at present time that must have a county agent in the county to direct and encourage their growth for them to succeed.

As you probably understand—half of the County Agent's salary is paid by the county, and remainder of his salary and expenses are paid by the State and National governments. This is an attractive proposition to any county, especially so to a county that has a Farm Bureau, and to you as a farmer and Farm Bureau member. The County Agent will also act as secretary of the Farm Bureau—encouraging and directing it in activities without any additional cost to the Farm Bureau members.

In order to continue the work in the county it is necessary that the Fiscal Court be presented immediately with a petition signed by a large number of progressive farmers of the county—asking that the appropriation for County Agent work be continued after July 1, 1920.

As a well wisher and from one who is personally interested in the success of the farming industry in Breckinridge County and the Breckinridge County Farm Bureau, I do not feel that the farmers throughout the county can afford to overlook this matter of seeing that steps are taken to provide for the continuance of extension work in the county.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the farmers of Breckinridge county for the many courtesies, kindnesses, and co-operation that they have shown me during the time I have filled the position as County Agricultural Agent in this county.

Nolan H. Loy, Co. Agr'l Agent.

TACKY PARTY

The Baptist W. M. U. will give a tacky party Thursday evening, May 20, at the residence of Mrs. Frank C. Ferry. You are invited.

MISS MARY HERON ELECTED PRESIDENT OF CHI OMEGA.

Miss Mary Heron, a student of the University of Kentucky, has had conferred upon her the honor of being elected president of the Chi Omega sorority and also elected to represent the sorority at the National Convention which meets in Knoxville, Tenn., next month.

Miss Heron is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Heron, of Irvington. She is a member of the Junior class at K. S. U., and because of her engaging personality she has won the admiration of a host of her collegiate friends. She has been chosen to lead the Junior prom at the close of school.

IS CLOVERPORT GOING TO FOLLOW OUIJA BOARD FAD TOO?

A traveling salesman was in Cloverport, Thursday and sold some ouija boards to Wedding's Drug Store. This salesman reported he had sold 75 gross of ouija boards in three weeks, most of them were sold in Louisville and Lexington.

These will be the first ouija boards to be on sale in Cloverport, and whether the fad will be as popular here as elsewhere is a question of local interest.

ONE TO BE GRADUATED FROM ST ROSE

Commencement Exercises to be Held Sunday, May 30. Special Program on June 1st.

The commencement exercises for the St. Rose parochial school will be held on Sunday evening, May 30, in the St. Rose church, at 8 o'clock. Miss Christine Ballman, who will always have the distinction of being the first pupil to be graduated from the St. Rose school, and who is the only graduate this year will be presented with her high school diploma by Rev. Father J. S. Henry. Miss Ballman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ballman who live near Cloverport.

In addition to presenting the one high school diploma, Rev. Father Henry will also award the prizes to the undergraduates who have been successful in meriting the several that were offered at the opening of school last fall.

On Tuesday evening following the commencement, which will be June 1, the high school and graded pupils will give an interesting program in the chapel of the St. Rose school at 7:30 o'clock. The program will include musical numbers and readings.

TEACHING IN SAN DEIGO SCHOOL

W. A. Hamman Has Met With Great Success in First Year's Work. Debate Coach.

What is attributed to being one of the greatest high schools in the United States is the San Diego High School in San Diego, Calif. The school is of interest locally because it has among its faculty members a man who was born and reared in Cloverport, Mr. Wilbur A. Hamman, son of Mrs. Mike Hamman.

This is Mr. Hamman's first year with the San Diego school, and he has undoubtedly met with a huge success. "The Russ," the Senior's Semi-Annual was dedicated to Mr. Hamman in "appreciation of his efforts towards a bigger and better San Diego High School," and it contains a splendid picture of him.

Besides being one of the high school teachers, Mr. Hamman is also the debate coach for the school and recently two of his pupils in the debating class won in a very exciting debate with the Santa Monica School. Mr. Hamman went to the San Diego school from Washington and has been in the West for some time. His progressiveness and energetic spirit which he possessed in boyhood are claiming for him many honors in manhood which his friends rejoice to hear of.

MONDAY, MAY 31, HOLIDAY.

Decoration Day, May 30th, which comes this year on Sunday, will be observed as a national holiday on Monday, May 31st.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR S. S. WORKERS

Kavanaugh Camp Ground Selected for Conference Training School for State Workers

The Louisville and Kentucky Conference Sunday School Boards, of the Methodist church, South with the assistance of the General Sunday-school Board have arranged for a Conference Training school at Kavanaugh Camp Ground, Crestwood, Ky., July 20-26, inclusive.

The training school is to benefit the pastors, superintendents, Sunday-school teachers and workers, and to create better and more efficient Sunday-schools throughout the State. The training may be had gratis, but students pay for their board.

Rev. J. R. Randolph, pastor of the Cloverport Methodist church has been appointed enrollment secretary for the Louisville Conference.

RAILROAD MEN DESERVE MORE PAY

Chicago, May 17.—Wage advances should be granted to many railroad workers to enable them to meet the high cost of living, the Association of Railroad Executives declared today in its opening statement before the railroad labor board. The board began hearings today.

E. T. Whiter, chairman of the conference of rail managers of the executives' association told the board that some part of the wage demands being made by 2,000,000 railway employees probably would be found to be justified by the rise in the cost of living.

Agreement of the railroads themselves that at least a part of the men should have more money is expected to go far toward expediting early settlement of the controversy which culminated last month in strikes by disgruntled employees.

The demand now before the boards aggregate more than a billion dollars a year, in addition to a billion dollar advance during the war and a $300,000,000 advance in the two years prior to government control, according to Mr. Whiter. He presented figures to show that the railway payroll had increased from 39.5 per cent of the gross earnings of the roads in 1915 to 53.6 per cent last year.

Bred Gilts for Sale

BRED TO FARROW IN APRIL

When you can save all the pigs, these gilts are good individuals of the very best breeding that I have been able to buy at any price, and bred to a son of Black Price the 1918 Grand Champion of the world and Big Uncle Sam by Big Buster by Giant Buster, The Epoch Maker, the latter hog is the largest boar that I have ever seen for his age and I have looked over some of the very best ones. These hogs are priced right, regular breeders stuff at farmers prices that we can all afford to pay.

If you want a herd boar that will put you in the limelight, a real boar, a son of Black Price, this is breeding that you cannot find anywhere else at three times the price that I am asking for him a great pig for some one that needs him at a bargain. This pig is right for hard service about eleven months old.

What is Your Home Asking For Today?

Yes anybody's House can talk, but only a well-kept house can be heard, by the housekeeper.

That's why homes are so different.

The careless housekeeper gets so used to seeing things that are not right, that finally she can't notice things when they are wrong.

But the ambitious housekeeper can't go through her house at anytime and not hear it asking for something that will make it more attractive or more comfortable.

Just now, when every housekeeper is fixing things for the new season, the house crier out louder than ever for something new here and there and most everywhere—Rugs, Draperies, Curtains, Linoleums, etc., etc.

And they are all here—just the kinds you want, in best possible variety.

RUGS—At all prices in all sizes and qualities.

LINOLEUMS—The best grades, featuring the BLABON brand. None better. 8-4 priced at $1.50 square yard; 12-4 priced at $1.75 square yard.

CHINA MATTING—Just received a carload, fresh from its native looms (not warehoused and dried out). Priced from 49c to 69c a yard.

Drapery Materials for Summer Windows

Just to give that bit of color around the lace hangings; or to discourage the rays of the sun. They give so much charm, when skillfully selected by the tasteful housekeeper.

A most satisfying collection is here to choose from, and willing help and advice as to selecting and using them.

Filet Nets priced from 35c to $2.00 per yard. Drapery materials and cretonnes at all prices. We are sole distributors of the famous Bilwiler Marquisettes and Scrims. Ask to see them the next time you are in the store.

HEAVY REDUCTION WHEAT ACREAGE

Production May be About Half of Last Year's Amount. Rye Crop Short. Livestock Very Good.

The condition of the Kentucky's wheat crop indicates a probable production of about 6,143,000 bushels this season compared to 12,029,000 last year, according to the May crop report issued jointly today at Frankfort and Louisville by State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna and H. F. Bryant, Kentucky field agent of the U. S. Bureau of Crops Estimates. Probable rye production is estimated at 634,000 bus. compared to 744,000 bus. last year, and tame hay at 1,410,000 tons compared to 1,561,000 tons produced last year. Actual production this season may prove greater or less than these estimates, depending on whether conditions are particularly favorable or unfavorable between now and threshing time and hay harvest.

Conditions Poor.

Heavy reduction of wheat acreage in Kentucky last fall, late sowing, poor acreage that was sowed, are the chief conditions warranting such a low estimate of the wheat crop. Rye came through the winter a little better than wheat, but still much below average. Wheat acreage left for harvest is now estimated at 618,000 acres compared to 1,046,000 last year; condition this month is 71 per cent of normal compared to 103 per cent this time last year.

Rye 82 Per Cent Normal.

Rye condition is estimated at 82 per cent of normal, compared to 103 per cent this time last year. The late spring has delayed farm work severely, plowing being only 60 per cent completed compared to 75 per cent usually done by May 1. Spring planting is 40 per cent done compared to an average of 45 per cent usually done by this time. Pasture is 80 per cent of normal compared to the 10 years average of 85. Ten per cent of last year's hay crop in Kentucky (or 156,100 tons) is still on the farms.

No Heavy Loss of Livestock

Livestock losses during the winter have not been usually heavy, except in some localities the spring condition of stock is slightly below average, excepting hogs, which are about average. Losses from each 1,000 head during the winter and spring were: horses and mules, 22; cattle, 40; sheep, 60; lambs 65; swine, 45. The ten-year average losses are: horses and mules, 20; cattle, 34; sheep, 59; lambs, 77; swine, 65.

GEN. DEWEESE'S BROTHER IS NAMED COLONEL.

Frankfort, Ky., May 15.—Dr. Clarence DeWeese, of Fordsville, brother of Adjutant General J. M. DeWeese, was appointed aide-de-camp on the governor's staff with the rank of colonel.

Mr. H. M. Beard, of Hardinsburg, has been appointed to the same position with the rank of colonel. It is now Col. Herbert Beard.

ORDERS FOR CLOTHING GOODS CANCELLED; PRICES ARE DROPPING.

Louisville, Ky., May 13.—Rifts in the clouds of high cost of living have begun with the announcement in many parts of the country, including Louisville, that orders for clothing goods are being cancelled.

Prices have been cut by wholesalers in response to a lessened demand. Woollens silks and cotton goods are included in the drop, raw silk showing the greatest decrease, with woollens following gradually. Cottons are beginning to be affected.

The retail market here, while slow to react to the change, has begun a slow drop. Dealers predicted a considerable decrease in the price of fall and winter clothing.

The beginning of the decrease, Louisville merchants said today, was precipitated by heavy speculation in raw silk, which had shown a sudden drop on the wholesale market of from thirty-seven to fifty per cent in the last two months.

This drop has already reached the retail market, C. E. Bret, department store head said. Silk shirts, for instance, he said, which have been selling for $12, $15 and $18 are selling for $10 and under.

F. S. Hunt, superintendent of the Louisville Woollen Mills, said a cut of ten per cent had been made in medium grade woollen goods on orders for the retail market next fall and winter and from twenty-five to thirty per cent on low grade materials.

Carter's Landing

Mr. Editor as this is the open season for the shooting of spring poets thought you might just as well commence on us as any one. This song was composed by old Mull while he was working on that beautiful Ohio river road between Carters Landing and Cloverport, last fall. Listen we are going to sing:

Went down to the tool house to get my tools

Took that disease called the road working blues

I've got the blues, wasn't caused from hoose

I've got what they call the road working blues

I've got the blues as sure as the Jews

I've got a pain called the road working blues.

Dropped down on the couch to take a little snooze

When I awoke had the road working blues

I took awful sick, thought 'twas a ruse

It wasn't anything but the road working blues

Went down to the Bachelors Club to pay my dues

Found every darned member singing the road working blues,

Copies of this wonderful song will be on sale at Al Lane's Saw Mill, Tar Springs, Ky., and Tom Bohlers Blacksmith shop, Cloverport.

Alec Hall, of Cloverport has invented a hookless and bateless trot line. You buy a spool of barb wire stretch it just like any other line when the fish come along try to flop over the line get caught on the barbs. Will Uncle Hy Taters, Captain Bill Pate, Freddie Freeman, Kitty Overton, Virgie and Winfield Robertson please copy.

Uncle Ben, investigated that fish story of Mr. Shelman's. It wasn't that large fish that floated down the Ohio last fall. It was a minnow weighing about four ounces. Just about four ounces. Just about large enough to weight a cork.

We had a meeting of the Bachelors Club last night. It seems that all of the young men of the county wanted to enlist. The names of those that tried to break into the society were Terrence Terry Couch, Harry Darst, Barney Squires, Victor Beavin, Leonard Weatherholt, Raymond O'Connell, Everett Noble, Gabe Beavin, Murrel Beatty, Lewis Beavin, Paul Elder, Al Lane, Lawrence Ballman, all of Cloverport, Elvis Rush, Melvin Rush Claude and Hubert Greenwood, Johnnie Carter, of Persimmon Flat. President Nolte told the boys he was sorry he would have to turn them down; they were too young. Advised the boys to go home and sprout a mustache or grow some side whiskers.

STIFF COLLAR STRIKE.

Protest Made By Chicago Men Against Laundry Prices.

Every man who wears a stiff collar will have some sympathy with the strike in Chicago against the starched yoke. Not only have collars advanced painfully in price, but the cost of having them laundered has doubled in the last two years. Four cents a day for a clean collar runs into money, eating as it does the interest on nearly $300. As for starched shirts, which the indignant Chicagoese have also forsworn, they have been growing fewer in recent years.

The soft white collar, which we presume is the substitute adopted in Cook county, is an admirable garment. It looks good on any man, at least it looks well all day, but these are men particularly favored by nature. There are other men unsuited by their anatomic architecture to wear the pliable cotton circle. They put one on the morning and the mirror approves it, but in an hour all the beauty is gone.

The collar wilts under its own weight, like certain Presidential booms, or is crushed by the relentless neck and jowl of the wearer. Nor will it rise like truth again. It grovels and withers and no effort of its unhappy owner, no scientific adjustment of the necktie, can make it stand up and be anything like the picture of it that appears in the soft collar advertisement.

No, the soft collar is like pearls and rubber plants, quickly affected by the possessor's personality. Some persevering men after years of effort have learned to make the soft collar change its ways and love them; yet it has never looked the same on them as it appears on the gifted fellows born to wear soft collars.

Incidentally there is a common superstition that soft collars are more comfortable than starched ones in hot weather. This is a fallacy as widespread as the notion that it is a felony to hit a man who wears glasses. Costly as it is, and uncomfortable as it sometimes looks, the stiff collar is infinitely cooler than the soft. But it is not hot now in Chicago or anywhere else north of Dixie so the strike against the hardboiled collar can proceed in comfort.—N. Y. Sun and Herald.

THE RAILROADS.

Want Government to Aid in Relieving Worst Freight Car Congestion Since 1917.

Washington, May 15.—The government was asked today to take "emergency action similar to that taken when the country entered the war," to help dig the railroads out from under the worst freight congestion since 1917.

A joint appeal to the Interstate Commerce commission by the Association of Railway Executives and American Railroad association declared the freight jam is such as to "warrant and require" immediate use of that body's broad powers under the transportation act.

Common use of equipment, embargoes, priorities and diversions of shipments were urged as means to remedy the situation. The roads ask also to be allowed to curtail passenger service where necessary and use the locomotives for hauling freight.

PROMOTING PLANT EFFICIENCY.

The eight hour day is not only more efficient than the 10 hour day in industrial plants, but is more economical.

This is the conclusion reached by experts of the United States Public Health Service after a careful detailed study of conditions and production in standard factories of both classes, which has been under way since 1917.

The plants surveyed were selected after a great deal of care. Each is a modern factory, employing such a large number of workers as to make any conclusions reached apply to industry in general. The other consideration was that the machinery, manufactured product and processes in the 10 hour plant should be sufficiently similar to the eight hour plant to make a fair comparison.

The advantages are all in favor of eight hour days, or shifts, as compared with the 10 hour day, and relate to maintenance of output, to lost time and to industrial accidents.

Here are the main conclusions summarized:

Maintenance of output: The outstanding feature of the eight hour day is steady maintenance of output. The outstanding feature of the 10 hour system is the decline of output.

Last time: Under the eight hour system work with almost full power begins and ends approximately on schedule, and lost time is reduced to a minimum. Under the 10 hour system work ceases regularly before the end of the spell and lost time is frequent.

Stereotyped output: Under the 10 hour system the laborers seem to artificially restrict their efforts and to keep pace with the less efficient workers. Under the eight hour day the output varies more nearly according to the individual capacity of the laborer. That is, each is more likely to do his utmost, rather than an "average day's work," regulated by a low standard.

Industrial accidents: This phase of the study is of particular interest. Ordinarily accidents may be expected to vary directly with speed of production, owing to increased exposure to risk. But when fatigue is taken into consideration there is a marked modification of this rule. When there is a reduction of output due to fatigue there is a rise in the number of accidents; that is, in the last hours of the 10 or 12 hour day, in spite of employees slowing up in work more accidents occur. If for any reason production is speeded up in the last hours when the laborers are fatigued, the rise in the number of accidents rises so rapidly as to leave no room to doubt that the higher accident risk accompanies the decline in working capacity of the employee.

These conclusions are based on so careful a study by officers of the U. S. Public Health Service and on so large a number of employees that they may undoubtedly be applied by industrial engineers generally.

The full report is contained in Public Health Bulletin No. 106, which is the first of a series to be published by the U. S. Public Health Service on the problems of industrial working capacity. In the two hundred pages making up the present report is presented a wealth of information which no industrial engineer can afford to neglect. Certainly if American industry is to maintain its present leadership it will only be as the result of the application of sound physiological principles.

BILLY GOAT & MR. FOX

MR. FOX was lazy; that his wife knew very well, but she had made up her mind that he should help her with her spring housecleaning if she had to starve him to it.

"You won't get a bite to eat," she said one morning, "until you clean my carpets and rugs. Now go to work, if you want your dinner, Reynard."

Out in the yard the rugs and carpets went with a bang and back to her work went Mrs. Fox. Reynard got up slowly from the ground where he was sitting under a tree and sighed, for he knew it was work or no dinner.

He pulled the carpet on the clothesline and hung the rugs beside it, and just then Mr. Coon ran by, calling out that a flock of young turkeys were in the wood, and off ran Reynard with him.

One of Mrs. Fox's rugs happened to be a big goatskin, and as it hung on the line swinging in the wind, Billy Goat happened to pass by and see it. Billy Goat gave a look at the rug and shook his horns. "If I could find the one who did that," he said, "I would avenge my poor relative. I wonder who lives here!"

Billy Goat looked around and not seeing anyone he took the goatskin and started to run away with it, but he had only gone as far as a clump of bushes when he saw some turkeys which Mrs. Fox had in a basket in the yard, and Billy changed his mind. He hid the skin of his relative behind the bushes and very cautiously tiptoed up to the basket and ate up every one of Mrs. Fox's turkeys.

He felt pretty sleepy when he had finished this big meal, so instead of running home he crept behind a rock some distance from Mrs. Fox's house and went to sleep.

By and by Reynard came back from his run with Mr. Coon and as he did not wish his wife to see him, he dodged behind every rock and tree as he came near his house.

"Well! If there isn't Mrs. Fox's nice goatskin rug away over here," said Reynard. "It must have blown off the line; now, isn't it lucky I came around this way?"

Reynard grabbed the tail of what he thought was the rug, but it wasn't the rug at all; it was Billy Goat, asleep, with his head in the grass and his horns quite hidden.

Reynard dropped the tail almost as soon as he touched it, for Billy Goat jumped and turned on him.

"Oh! I thought you were my wife's goatskin rug!" he said as fast as he could talk.

"Oh! You did, did you?" said Billy Goat, lowering his head. "So you are the fellow who brought my poor relative to his sad end?"

"But let me tell you about it!" said Mr. Fox, as Billy Goat butted him over and over on the ground.

"I'll use all the butts that are needed to explain this situation," said Billy Goat. "I am the fellow who put the other 't' on that 'but' you want to tell me about. I know all about it."

Poor Reynard limped home, holding his back and sides, as he groaned with pain, but Mrs. Fox would not listen to anything he said. "If you had stayed there and done the work you would not have a lame back!" she said.

She made him clean the carpet and find the goatskin rug, which Billy Goat, in his hurry, forgot, before she gave her husband his dinner, and all through the woods could be heard the groaning of Reynard as he worked, but not a bit of sympathy did he get from Mrs. Fox.

Bents

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

YOUR Bents are your Advisers. Bents are just Tendencies. Every one has them. They are born with you. Wise people are those who listen to their Advisers—who consider their Bents. Each one of your Bents should be carefully considered in silent Conference. And that Conference should be Personal and Serious. For—

Every Man, sooner or later, may BECOME what his Bents ARE.

Neglect not a single Bent that is within you, but as Master over it, cultivate and educate it to do your bidding. Become what you are FITTED to become. Exert every faculty and use every ounce of energy to this end. It is good sense to believe that you know your own Bents better than anyone else. And you have the assurance ever with you that—

Every man, sooner or later, may BECOME what his Bents ARE.

Franklin followed his own Bents and became a World figure. Instead of following the Bents that his Father seemed to see in him in desiring him to become a Clergyman. You will need no advisors if you will but stop long enough to search out and look your Bents squarely in the face. And if you follow your Bents Courageously and without discouragement, you will then be able to feel to the full, the truth of how blessedly Happy is the man who has FOUND his work.

Officers Forced to Chop Wood.

Forty officers of the old Austrian army, ranging in rank from lieutenant to lieutenant colonel, have gone to work as laborers in wood-chopping camps at 40 crowns a day. One major remarked that it was better than starving. [A crown is now almost valueless.]

PERPETUAL DISSATISFACTION.

The man who has to stay at home finds that not to his liking. The "drummer," always on the road, is sick and tired of hiking.

It isn't that the home is bad. The road's no such a lemon. It's just that what we've always had is what we're always condemnin'.

'Twould sure be finer, would it not, And give the world a rest, If each declared that what he'd got Was just the very best?

Couldn't Stand Everything. A man had just walked under a ladder.

A girl split the salt and threw none of it over her left shoulder.

A boy had just kicked a black cat that crossed the road.

Providence pulled down its veil. "My face won't stand any more flying into," it said.

EXPLAINED.

"What is meant by the newspaper headline, 'Lemons save doctor's bills'?"

"It means that those who save their money instead of paying their bills are regarded by the attendant physicians as lemons."

OIL, VOIL.

From rugged Maine to Golden Gate this photo-reel stuff is unfurled. And every jilt-show in the land has "the best movies in the world."

OIL STOVES.

One time in a careless moment Luther Burbank, the well-known double-crocker, conceived the unique and mischievous idea of crossing the glow-worm and the skunk.

The result was an oil stove. The hybrid inherited its heat from the glow-worm and its aroma from the skunk.

When one retires in a fireless, radiatorless, registerless room away from home, they sometimes put one of these kerosene, air-cooled consumers in with him for company.

Any time he wakes in the night he knows the stove is there, because he can smell it.

He is glad it doesn't make any heat, for smells smell worse in a warm room than in a cold room. They say there are oil stoves that warm one. But we have not seen all.

LOVELY WOMAN

Henry Edward Warner, in Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Can you tell me why a woman, As she hurries to the door, Stops to put a little powder on her nose?

Of course it's only human— We have heard that said before! It explains the case entirely, I suppose.

But whatever is the reason, Anywhere you chance to meet, Whether in the social parlor Or upon the crowded street, Even though she may be rushing To the train with hurried feet, She will stop

To put some powder On her nose. You may think she's interested In the merchant's window show, But she is only putting powder on her nose!

All these windows are invested With a mirrored back, you know, And the merchant wots where his persimmon grows.

At an afternoon reception You will see each woman try To pre-empt sine seat position; If you follow up her eye You will see a mirror near her, And you'll know the reason why

When she dabs A little powder On her nose.

Powder, lip-stick and cosmetics. Lingerie and flimsy frills— That's the way the formula for women goes!

Chocolate bonbons and esthetics, And a catalogue of ills. With a bluff at mending socks for hopeful beaux!

But we shall not criticize her— Let her fuffe and she will! She is the invalid she's treating, And the powder puff her pill!

Let her powder, rouge and lip-stick And we'll gladly pay the bill, For she needs a Little powder On her nose!

THEN LAUGH

Build for yourself a strong box, Fashion each part with care; When it's strong as your hand can make it,

Put all your troubles there; Hide there all thought of your failures And each bitter cut that you cuff; Lock all your heartaches within it, Then sit on the lid and laugh.

Tell no one one else its contents, Never its secrets share; When you've dropped in your care and worry, Keep them forever there; Hide them from sight so completely That the world will never dream half;

Fasten the strong box securely, Then sit on the lid and laugh. —Selected.

CONTRACTING PARTIES

THE contracting parties is a title given to young people who take each other for better or worse and are obliged by the law to sign an agreement that they will stand hitched.

The marriage contract is not written out in full like a farm lease or a life insurance policy, hence the contracting parties do not become fully acquainted with its provisions and the fine print until it has been in operation for some time. It is very easy for a husband to live up to the marriage contract so long as his wife is willing to provide for both and allow him to rest up. One reason why so many marriage contracts are shot full of holes within nine months after the officiating clergyman has been paid off is because some wives object to maintaining a rest resort for a calloused, slab-sided husband who knows what woman's sphere is and wants her to stay where she is put.

If more young people realized that married life under present conditions is something which should be tackled only after meditation and prayer, there would be fewer contracting parties ambling up to the ferns and smilax in pongee silk and the conventional black. The young man who takes a contract to support and provide with real food a husky and voracious bride, on $25 per week, should step out and take a look at the price of process flour and beef liver before launching his bark on the matrimonial sea. There has been more senselessness among contracting parties who forgot to figure the grocery bill as a liability of the business, during the last few months, than ever before in the history of the world.

On the other hand, no young man and woman should refuse to become contracting parties if they have health, horse sense and are not afraid that they will be worn by work. There is nothing nicer than married life, when both parties live up to the contract without trying to slip in a joker now and then. (Copyright.)

Extreme Care.

"Old Pettybone is mad on the subject of prevention. What do you think he did the other day when he reproved that young fellow with a bulldog looking face and the latter made a biting retort?"

"What did he do?"

"Took the Pastern treatment."

Heavy Odds.

"How did you happen to lose that case?"

"The preponderance of evidence was against us."

"Huh?"

"We had only two pretty witnesses and they had six."

LOCKED IN THE BREAST.

Whatever heart longings to me are denied, How many bright prospects of mine turned aside, It will not be in me to grieve or complain, If I in the humor can calmly remain, That, when day is o're and I go home to rest, A grudge against no one is locked in my breast.

In everyday life we are always beset With trials and crosses that vex us and fret; When in anger we speak words cutting and hard, Because at the time we were quite off our guard,

But ne'er may there be when the sun seeks the west A grudge against anyone locked in my breast. We intend to do right, and when we do wrong This is true of the weak, often true of the strong,

But of all the errors we thoughtlessly make May we never forget this sound view to take, Should there be a fend there may be an inquest To follow a grudge locked up long in the breast.

A grudge in one night will gnaw, fester, and grow, But to what proportion the morrows will show, For days and for months it may many annoy, Or the peace of a life forever destroy, Heaven pity the mortal who, when he would rest, Has a grudge against someone locked in his breast!

Lynn. Thomas F. Porter.

ODIOUS COMPARISON.

A girl and a man sat under the palm just outside the ballroom. "Is your love true?" asked the girl.

"As true," the man answered, in low, passionate tones, "as true as the delicate flush on your cheek."

"O—ah," the girl stammered hurriedly, "isn't—doesn't the band play nicely."—Boston Globe.

ONCE FAMOUS HOSTELERY OF LOUISVILLE TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION.

The Willard Hotel, the famous gathering place for politicians fifty years ago, and the oldest hotel in Louisville still in operation, will be sold at auction June 14.

The hotel is operated at present by D. R. Lindsey. It was built in 1852 by O. N. Willard and W. C. D. Phipps who operated it about twenty years. At that time it consisted of a building half the present size and fronted on Green street. It was later operated by Joseph Alexander, known over Kentucky and Indiana as "Uncle Joe," who gained fame as a host of many conventions and gatherings of various sorts. He also made a fortune in a deal by his efforts to "corner" Ripy Whisky, a Kentucky product in 1887. The hotel was brought to its present size in 1883.

HARRY P. TAYLOR OF HARTFORD, DEAD.

Harry P. Taylor, a prominent lawyer, of Hartford, died of pneumonia, at his home at 3 o'clock, Monday morning. He had been in frail health for some months, but was seized with his fatal illness on Saturday morning. Mr. Taylor was the son of Harrison Pirtle Taylor, and his mother was Miss May, of Utica. He was sixty-four years of age and for more than thirty years had been a leading member of the Hartford bar. He was attorney for the Illinois Central railroad for more than twenty years, and had been active in the general practice of law since he was a very young man. His grandfather, Harrison D. Taylor, was one of the pioneers of Ohio county and amassed a modest fortune.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIAL

The Cloverport Methodist Sunday-school will have a social on Thursday night, May 20th. The whole church congregation is invited and many enjoyable features have been planned.

PRICE PRINT PAPER
ER TO GO HIGHERVice-President of International Company Says Advance Set
For July First.

Washington, May 5.—Further advances in print paper prices are to be made by the International Paper Company on July 1, said a telegram from Chester W. Lyman, vice-president of the company, which was presented to the Senate committee investigating the paper shortage. The message, addressed to Joseph Pulitzer, Jr., publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, follows:

"Alarming rise in prices for pulpwood, other raw materials and mill supplies, together with inevitable increase in transportation charges, will necessitate a higher selling price for last two quarters. Impossible to foretell extent of increase on account of uncertainty of conditions. Increase in cost likely to continue to turning point reached in general industrial, social and financial conditions."

"Only remedy for present-trouble is rigid economy by publishers in their use of newsprint. It would be the height of folly for the Government to attempt to regulate or lower spot market, onerous as it may appear, as it would result in diversion of many specialty mills now making newsprint to their normal product. This addition to present newsprint supply, stimulated by the high prices of the spot market, is estimated at about 150,000 tons a year."

"High spot market prices largely warranted by scarcity of raw material and corresponding high prices. In most cases believe the profits are not inordinate. Small publishers must be helped out by larger consumers protected by contracts."

In presenting the telegram, Charles G. Ross, Washington correspondent of the Post-Dispatch, said that news paper was "strongly opposed to Government control of the paper industry in any form whatsoever on the ground that it in effect it would be Government control of the press."

"We do not believe," he said, "that Government regulation of the size of newspapers is a sound solution of the difficulty, but believe the solution should be left to the publishers and that the law of supply and demand in the long run will correct the present high prices."

James W. Brown, New York, of the Editor and Publisher, recommended a cooperative agreement to reduce print paper consumption until production could be increased. No set rule could be laid down for the purpose, he said, adding that it should be dealt with by publishers in each community.

"I have an abiding faith in American editors and publishers," the witness said. "They understand the situation and the difficulties and will decide them right."

Mr. Brown said he knew of no hoarding of print paper or of any agreements to limit prices or production or control the market.

FIRST BIDS ON RIVER ROAD TO BE OPENED.

Frankfort, Ky., May 17.—The first contract for construction of the Ohio River road between Louisville and Paducah will be let May 28, eleven miles on the Eighteenth street road, Jefferson county known as the Camp Knox project. This also will be the biggest contract ever let through the State Highway department amounting to between $400,000 and $500,000.

It will be built of Kentucky rock asphalt or Topeka mix, a liquid asphalt, from the end of the present rock asphalt paving to West Point. On a four-mile stretch on a fill to the Salt river bridge an alternate bid on cement concrete will be received.

At the same time seven miles of macadam in Jassamin county, beginning at the Fayette line on the Lexington-Harrodsburg pike, will be let. With these two contracts, both of them federal aid projects, the government allotment to Kentucky for 1919-20 will be exceeded.

HOBERT SHELLMAN
HOME WITH HIS BRIDE.

Mr. Hobert Shellman formerly of Hardinsburg, now of Akron, O., and Miss Esther Knutz, of the same city were married May 15, 1920 at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Shellman will visit Mr. Shellman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Shellman at their home in Hardinsburg, this week.

Mr. Shellman is paymaster for The Imperial Electrical Company, Akron, one of the big manufacturing plants of that city and is making good. Mr. Nathaniel Shellman, his brother, of Louisville will join the bridal party for a week's stay.

"Uncle" Gus is one of the proudest men in Hardinsburg, now that he has a daughter-in-law.

"IT WAS A FRIEND IN NEED" HE SAYS

Railroad Man Was so Run Down He Could Hardly Stay on Job—Feels Like New Made Man Now.

"Tanlac certainly proved to be a friend in need to me, for when I started taking it I was in a badly run-down condition, but I am now enjoying the best of health," said Fred Walters, 1816 Pool street, Toledo, Ohio, an employee at the Pennsylvania Railroad shops.

"For quite a while I had been suffering from stomach trouble," added Mr. Walters. "My appetite was so poor I had to force down every mouthful I ate and especially in the mornings when I seldom ate any breakfast at all, usually drinking only a small cup of coffee. The little I did manage to eat soured almost as soon as it was in my stomach and gas pressed against my heart so at times it was difficult for me to breathe. I also suffered with severe headaches nearly all the time and at times would have dizzy spells when it was just about all I could do to keep from falling. I was unable to get but little sleep and always got up in the mornings feeling tired and worn out. Not being able to eat scarcely anything and loss of sleep with my other troubles was telling on me and I began to lose strength very fast, and finally it was just about all I could do to do my work at the railroad shops.

"I had tried several different medicines without receiving any benefit from them, when one of the boys at the shop who had been greatly benefited by Tanlac advised me to give it a trial, and as he was so loud in his praise about it I decided to take his advice. Well, sir, to make a long story short, it proved to be the very thing I needed, and it was only a short while before I had a splendid appetite and now I can eat just anything I want without its hurting me a particle. I always get a good night's sleep and get up in the mornings feeling fine and ready for a good day's work, which I can now do with ease. Tanlac has made life worth living to me, and I will only be too glad to recommend it whenever I have the opportunity."

1918 BIRTH RATE EXCEEDS DEATH BY 34 PER CENT.

Washington—Births in the registration area of the United States, covering about 33 per cent. of the country's estimated population, during the year 1918 exceeds deaths by 34.4 per cent. Statistics for that year just completed by the Census Bureau show a total of 1,363,649 births in the territory included in the registration area, which is a small decrease compared to 1917, while the deaths, 1,014,620, show a slight increase.

Of every 100 infants born during 1918, the figures show ten died before reaching the age of one year, a fractional decrease over 1917. Mortality rates among male infants was 23 per cent greater than that for female infants.

The birth of 13,342 pairs of twins and 147 set of triplets were reported. The order in which the births were recorded ran all the way from 345,027 cases of first borns to fifty cases where the birth reported was the twentieth or more child.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE READY TO FIGHT HESSIAN FLY.

Washington, May 12.—Anticipating the possibility this spring of another of the numerous destructive outbreaks of the Hessian fly in the wheat fields of the country the Department of Agriculture has made ready to combat it. Through appropriation by Congress funds for the work were increased sufficiently to provide for the principal needs and three studies have been established at Carlisle, Pa.; Centerville, Ill., and Wichita, Kans.

Through these stations it is hoped more will be learned this year about the Hessian fly than in any year since the British General Howe's hired Hessians are supposed to have brought the pest to Long Island during the Revolution. Exhaustive investigations are under way on parasites of the Hessian fly to determine what effect the presence or absence of any particular parasite has on periodical visitations of the fly. The last great outbreak came five or six years ago.

PROPOSES STANDARDS FOR GRADING OF WOOL.

Washington, May 9.—The Bureau of Markets of the Department of Agriculture in connection with its work for the establishment of uniform wool standards, has prepared types representing various grades of wool. These types were decided upon after examination of thousands of samples that represent the opinion of the trade generally as to what should comprise wool standards and now form the basis of commercial transactions.

It is proposed by Government experts to lay these types before wool growers for the purpose of determining the practicability of their application upon a commercial basis.

At present there are no fixed wool grades in universal application, with the result that the purchase of the producer's product is based upon arbitrary standards fixed by individuals buyers.

NAT'L FARM ORGANIZATION OPPOSES CHINESE LABOR.

Chicago, May 12.—Delegates attending a meeting of the National Board of Farm Organizations refused to-day to endorse a movement to bring Chinese labor into the United States temporarily to meet the shortage of labor. The plan was proposed to the meeting by a representative of the national industrial and agricultural development committee, which has offices here.

"The result of such action would be to kill farm and labor organizations," said Charles A. Lyman, secretary and treasurer of the farm board.

No action was taken in an effort to secure reduction of armaments, but representatives of the board will meet here at the time of the Republican convention and expect to take up the matter then, the farm men said.

BILL TO DISTRIBUTE WAR SOUVENIRS BEFORE HOUSE.

Washington, May 13.—The House Military Committee today reported the Senate bill authorized distribution of captured German material to states, amended so that senators and representatives from each state would make the distribution instead of the governors. The material available includes 2,197 artillery pieces, 4,020 caissons, 20,000 rifles, 20,000 machine guns, and 40,000 bayonets and scabbards. One German tank, four tractors, and 243 trucks are being utilized by the War Department and will not be distributed. Distribution will be in proportion to the number of troops furnished by each state.

CUBIANS DYE HATS BLACK IN PROTEST.

Havana, May 12.—While Cuba has not yet joined the overalls wearing campaign against the high cost of clothing, straw hats, dyed black, are making their appearance in rapidly increasing numbers in protest against the high prices being charged for that class of headwear. In many factories the entire force of workers have adopted the dyed hat and the campaign is spreading to others.

50 CENT COINAGE BILL IS SIGNED.

Washington, May 12.—The bill authorizing the coinage of a special 50 cent piece to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims was signed to-day by President Wilson.

TRACTOR SUPER- SEDING HORSES

Two and Three Horses Disposed of Wherever Tractors are Purchased.

The number of horses displaced by tractors in the corn belt is largely determined by the number it is necessary to keep for corn cultivation, and other work current at the same time which the tractor can not do. This is perhaps, the most important of the facts brought out by an investigation recently made by the United States Department of Agriculture in seven corn-belt States, relative to the influence of tractors on the use of horses, the results of which have been published in Farmers' Bulletin 1093.

The department has drawn on the experience of 191 tractor owners, in the preparation of this bulletin, which is designed to enable the corn-belt farmer to answer for himself the following questions:

For what operations can I use the tractor?

In what operations will it displace horses in whole or in part?

How many horses will it displace on my farm?

It was found that the number of horses disposed of by the farmers in question after buying tractors was between two and three a farm. The average number of acres tillable by horses was increased 12, and the average size of the farms by a total of 22 acres. Several operators displaced horses entirely on plowing, disking, and harrowing. Few operators allowed their horses to stand idle while the tractor was in use.

The horses remaining on these farms are doing 75 per cent of the tractive work, and the tractor the remainder.

The tractors were used for an average of 59 10-hour days a year on the home farms, no records being taken of custom work. A three-plow tractor on these farms does the work of 8½ horses in plowing, disking, harrowing and harvesting.

The results of this study further substantiate the conclusion that the principal advantage of a tractor lies in its ability to do heavy work in a shorter time than is possible with horses.

A BUSHEL OF CORN.

The laws of most of the States recognize 70 pounds of ears or 56 pounds of shelled corn as a bushel of corn. These weights are reliable, says the United States Department of Agriculture, when the ears or shelled corn contain only 15 per cent of water. About one-third the weight of ear corn as customarily harvested in the Northern States is water, while that harvested in the drier sections of the South contains less than 15 per cent of water.

An Accurate Corn Planter Is One of Your Best Friends

The Accurate Drop Corn Planter

The real reason for using a corn planter is to save time. However, if the planter is not accurate, it would pay better to plant by hand. Accuracy in a corn planter means uniform drop—the desired number of kernels in each and every hill. If the planter is not accurate, a loss in yield will result.

Accuracy in planting has been the main object in designing the John Deere No. 999 Corn Planter. The advantage of using this planter is that with proper handling it will plant two, three or four kernels in the hill, as desired. Everyone of these machines is rigidly inspected before leaving the factory.

The seed-dropping device on this planter is an improvement over all other seed-dropping devices. The John Deere No. 999 is equipped with John Deere Natural Cell Fill, Edge Delivery Seed Plates. The surface of the hopper bottom and the openings to the seed cells are oblique or sloping. The weight of the corn in the hopper causes the seed to move toward and enter the cells of the seed plate in its natural position. The kernels do not have to be tipped on edge, and, therefore, each cell is filled readily.

The Full Variable Drop Planter

The John Deere No. 999 Planter has a variable drop consisting of a train of gears constantly in mesh. With this device, two, three or four kernels can be planted as desired merely by shifting the foot lever. The gears are enclosed in an oil-tight case, and it never is necessary to remove them from this case, which is dust-proof.

The driving mechanism has this advantage over the ordinary—it never is separated. Other devices open and close at every action of the fork by the wire and are constantly being released under strain, causing considerable wear and reducing the life of the most important parts of the planter. The device on the John Deere No. 999 Planter can be shifted at any time in the travel of the machine.

The John Deere No. 999 is a real variable drop planter—it varies the distance in drilling as well as the number of kernels per hill in hilling, and gives a greater variety of distances without the use of extra sprockets and plates.

All corn plates on this planter have 16 cells; therefore, the same drilling distances can be obtained as on planters having 8, 12 and 16-cell plates, and without the change of plates.

Hilling or Drilling

Change from hilling to drilling or back to hilling is made instantly. No extra attachments or extra tools are required. Simply pressing the foot lever makes the change.

The foot drop provided on this planter is of special use in hill dropping with the foot; also when planting rows at the ends of the field.

Plants Many Varieties of Corn

Seed plates can be furnished for handling practically any kind of corn; also sorghum, milo, maize and other seeds.

The improved form of cut-off has a quick action. The spring knocker causes each kernel to be discharged upon the valve without fail.

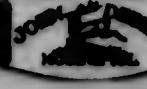

There are no ridges or obstructions in the valves to catch and hold the kernels. Sufficient opening is left just above the upper valve to enable operator to see the kernels as they are collected for the hill.

APPEAL OF A FAKE STOCK SALESMAN

Politician Posing as Bricklayer Betrays Self by Waving Garden Trowel.

The following story is told of a candidate for parliament in England who addressing a gathering of workmen asked their support because he also had been a horny handed son of toil. Enthusiastically he waved a trowel and a hammer declaring he still treasured the tools that had brought him his bread and butter.

"Brother workmen," he concluded "can I rely on your support?" "You can that," answered one of the audience who had examined the tools. "A chap what can lay bricks with a gardener's trowel must be extra clever."

That is exactly the kind of appeal that fake stock salesmen are making to workmen all over the United States. They claim to be able to find producing oil wells and paying gold mines with a prospectus. It takes an oil man to successfully manage an oil property even a rich one, and it takes a mining man and one with sterling business ability to make, just as it takes a skilled brick layer to lay bricks properly, any mine pay a profit. Yet unscrupulous promoters who know an oil well only by its photographs or a mine by the engraving on the stock certificates are urging members of organized labor to trust them with the savings won by hard work. The only thing they have to back their claims is the gardener's trowel of promised profits.

CHURCH 144 YEARS OLD HAS FIRST WEDDING

Paris, Ky., May 12.—The 144th anniversary of the Silas Baptist Church, Jacksonville, was celebrated Tuesday by the first marriage ceremony ever performed within its walls. The bride was Bettie Mae Sparks, daughter of Joseph Sparks, and the bridegroom Dillard L. Sebastian, Scott county. This was the first church in Kentucky. A wedding was to have taken place following its dedication, but on goes, the bridegroom was killed by the wedding morning, so the story Indians. No marriage since has been celebrated there.

Folks with Thin, Pale Blood Hesitate—Feel Uncertain.

SHOULD TAKE PEPTO-MANGAN

Red-Blooded Men and Women Know What They Want to Do and Do It

It may be you are just recovering from a sick spell—or may be your system is run down and your blood so weak that you are in poor shape to resist infection—

But if you don't feel and look robust you are not robust. Such state is often due to weak blood, not enough red blood, not enough red blood cells, a condition known as anemia.

The best remedy for anemia (bloodlessness) with its low mental and physical vigor is Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Pepto-Mangan supplies the weak, watery blood with the very elements it needs to put new life into it. It repairs, re-creates, and re-builds the exhausted blood, the vital fluid of health and life. Try Pepto-Mangan if you are "run-down." It cannot harm you—it will certainly help you unless you have some deep-seated chronic disease requiring the physician's care. Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. For sale at all druggists.—Advertisement.

STRONG FINISHERS.

Suffragists from the 48 States have concentrated their whole attention on Gov. Holcomb of Connecticut, because, if he remains obdurate in his refusal to call a special meeting of the Legislature, the chief remaining prospect for ratification this year will be North Carolina—which most students of the suffrage question do not think at all promising.

With 35 States safe and only one to go, the last lap of the struggle looked easy, until Delaware failed to ratify. Since then it has been a case of so near and yet so far, with every road to the finish almost perpendicular.

But the American women who, have almost won the right for all of their sex in the United States to vote for President are strong finishers. Their past performances have been impressive and they are not going to give up now. Their campaign will continue interesting as long as it lasts, for the suffrage workers are intensively practical and have learned how official minds work and what arguments sway them.

In the end, of course, they cannot lose, for there is no time limit within which the Susan B. Anthony amendment must be ratified. If the matter is not cleaned up in season for registration for next November, it will almost certainly be disposed of during the next Legislative year.

Meanwhile, the women are evolving a new politics of their own, and will be able to make their full influence felt from the moment the sex barrier to franchise is entirely removed—Boston Globe.

HUGE PROFITS BY PACKERS.

"Doubled" Trebled and Quadrupled" During War, Says Federal Report.

Washington, May 15.—Profits made by the big meat packing companies in the first three years of the war, 1915 through 1917, "doubled, trebled and quadrupled," according to a special report of the Federal Trade Commission.

From 1912 to 1914, the report said, the "big five"—Morris Wilson, Cudahy, Armour and Swift companies—made average annual profits of $59,500,000 while in the next three years their net returns averaged $192,000,000.

Attacking the figures of their profits as announced by the packers, the report said, "the whole accounting system of the packers must be revised before dependable figures can be found showing costs and profits by specific products or even for the business as a whole."

USING OVERSEAS BRIDGE MATERIAL

"Fabricated Material" to be Used in National Parks and Forest Reserve.

As the Germans retreated their last effort was always directed at the destruction of the bridges behind them. The United States Army engineers were prepared for this and were supplied with what is known as "fabricated material"—steel girders and trusses all drilled at the factory and ready to be set up across the Aisne or the Marne, or whatever river it happened to be, so that Yank could cross and again close with his foes.

The end of the war came too soon to make it necessary to use all this bridge material, and the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, has its engineers on the problem of adapting the surplus for use in the forest reserves and national parks.

"Fabricated material" means that the parts are ready drilled for connection. This steelwork is in, short, easily handled sections—no part weighs over 2,850 pounds—and it probably will lend itself as easily to the uses of the summer vacationist as to the hobnailed tramp of an armed infantryman moving at double quick.

Besides 108 spans of drilled material, there is at Camp Humphreys, Va., about 900 tons of unfabricated stuff. This will be examined by experts and much of it will be used in the national forests. A rough estimate places the value of this surplus material at about $300,000.

NATION'S RAIL-ROADS SWAMPED WITH BUSINESS

Railway Officials See Small Hope of Early Improvement in Situation.

Washington, May 17.—The nation's railroads, swamped with business, and not yet on their feet after the long period of federal control, turned hopefully to the Government today for relief.

With reports from industrial centers showing several hundred thousand cars held up at junctions and in transit because of insufficient equipment and labor, the Interstate Commerce Commission, clothed with broad powers under the new railroad law, was expected to heed the appeal of the carriers and take charge of a situation, admittedly bad.

Although desperate efforts have been made in the last week to clear up the tangle of freight, railroad officials said there was slight hope of early improvement. The great need at the moment is to clear the tracks of nonessential shipments and open the way for the free movement of the necessities of life.

So great is the traffic congestion, according to reports and complaints from many quarters, that there is immediate danger of wholesale closing of big industrial plants and the consequent cut in production.

Should the commission find on the strength of reports laid before it by the railway executives, that the emergency justifies it, orders taking over virtually complete control of the movement of freight, probably will be issued today. The first step would be the issuance of priority orders for shipment of coal, for which there is crying need at many points, food and perishables. The use of cars would be limited to these commodities, but railroad men said they were more concerned with the problem of moving and unloading upwards of 200,000 cars that have caused the congestion.

The possibilities of curtailing passenger service has been considered by the roads so as to expedite freight movement, but officials said this would be done only as a last resort.

"AND NOW THE ANGELS HAVE GONE AWAY."

W. H. Faunce, President of the Brown University in Massachusetts, said in a sermon delivered in Boston recently that present day patriotism lies in work and present day religion may be expressed in terms of service.

Pres. Faunce took his text from the second chapter of Luke, "And it came to pass when the angels have gone."

"When the angels have gone away that is the test for all of us," said the speaker.

"When the great war was being fought most of us moved on a plane of almost religious exaltation. The angels came into our National firmament and sang while we listened. We begged to be allowed to put on the military and naval uniforms and go to the most dangerous points of battle. Was sugar needed? We would have none of it. Was gasoline needed? Not a wheel turned on the avenues on Sundays. Freedom, democracy and humanity—they were our watchwords.

"Then came the day of the Armistice. 'Praise God from whom all blessings flow.' And now the angels have gone away.

"Democracy—we are wondering if we have too much of it.—Humanity—we say, that every Nation ought to be ready to take care of itself without our aid. Party spirit is rampant. All views submerged during the war by the rising tide of loyalty and devotion now stand out as do rocks after the tide has gone out. Our Naval heads are wrangling with each other. A great wave of selfishness and pessimism has swept over the world.

Work in Place of Shouting.
"In Russia the salvation of the miserable millions lies in the cultivation of the natural resources. Great Britain is recklessly spending where she should be saving. And in our own America we have waved the flag and sung the 'Star Spangled Banner,' but now we need that no longer.

"Instead of waving and shouting we should work. Is every man who waved his hat in the air in November, 1918 willing to put his hand to the plough in May, 1920? Are we who so freely sang 'America' ready to work for America through the long patient years of reconstruction.

"Our young men and women did not give their lives in vain. But our liberty our hopes and prayers must be sought in a different place than where we are looking. We must find them in the school, the department store, the cotton mill.

"And we shall find Christianity, not in Palestine as it is now, but in America as it is to be.

It seems to be the common belief that dangers come primarily to young people. But there are even graver dangers to middle age. The danger of youth is surplus of energy inspiration and ambitions. The danger of middle age is the deficit of these. There is the danger of disillusionment and disappointment. There is not enough faith and not enough energy.

"The deepest fault of old civilization may be just that lack of vim and energy. There is the danger of moral fatigue. The man who is middle aged begins to wonder if he hasn't earned a moral vacation.

"I have seen changes in this city, changes in this country. The tides have surged around even this sanctuary. Yet the old faith in which it was founded is still our faith. Religion is simpler each year, but it is still the old faith of the ages.

"No man can find greater happiness in his life than in ending his years in service and work for his fellow-men."

DAVISS COUNTY ROAD ENGINEER SPURRIER, RESIGNS.

J. W. Spurrier, County Road Engineer for Daviess county, has resigned and his resignation will take effect as soon as some one can be secured in his place. Mr. Spurrier was urged to reconsider his resignation but he declined. He was one of the speakers in Cloverport last spring to boost the Ohio River Route, and he has made considerable progress in road work through Daviess county.

WHAT IS DONE WITH THE MONEY?—QUERY

Salvation Army Shows How More Than $14,000,000 Is Spent Annually in the United States.

"What is done with the money?" That is one of the first questions put to workers in the Salvation Army's second Home Service Campaign which will reach its culmination during the period May 10-20 when the drive will be fully on.

It is a legitimate question and one which the officers of this great organization are eager to answer because it shows the splendid work done.

According to the official financial audit just made public at the national headquarters in New York City, there had been spent to January 31, 1920, more than $13,000,000, with a remainder on hand for the four months to May 31 of over $900,000.

Nearly a million and a half dollars were spent to maintain the 939 corps of the Army in all parts of the United States. This was for rental of halls, etc., work for children and young people, cost of local relief and incidental expenses, stationery, etc., and officers' salaries. This list was not so large as it seems might be expected as not a single officer in the Salvation Army has a salary sufficiently large to call for the payment of an income tax.

Another million and a half was spent by 34 provincial and divisional headquarters for fresh air farms and camps, special relief work, etc. Nearly $200,000 was used for maintaining 25 rescue homes and maternity hospitals, a general hospital and one for children, three children's homes and 11 slum settlements and nurseries and $400,000 for the pension fund for aged or disabled officers.

The Salvation Army believes in paying its debts as quickly as possible. During the year mortgages to the amount of nearly $2,000,000 were paid off.

To show how fast the work of the Salvation Army is developing, it is only necessary to point to the fact that over $7,000,000 was spent on new buildings during the year.

WANTED ALL HE COULD GET

Elderly Passenger in Airplane Was Looking for Some Thrills for His Good Money.

Last summer Kokomo, Ind., had the usual airplane pilot who took passengers up for $1 a minute. The pilot was approached one day by a man who was easily within earshot of eighty years. The pilot took him aboard and soared around in "straight flying." In order not to give the elderly passenger any thrills that would be dangerous to his heart action. After the customary fifteen minutes he slid gracefully to the ground and motioned his passenger to alight. The old man complied, and then walked up to the aviator.

"Say," he exclaimed, "are you a real flyer? What about Immelman turns, barrel rolls, loop-the-loops, nose dive, tail spin, falling leaf, pancake, and so on? Can you do any of those things?"

"Sure," replied the aviator, "but I did not think you cared about any of those things. They are a trifle risky, you know, and might upset your stomach."

"Well, I paid for a good ride and I expected some of those things," the passenger countered, "and I would like to get them. Give me all you got. Tumble around in the air like a porpoise in the ocean."

The aviator told him to climb aboard and he would accommodate him. He gave the passenger "all he had."

"That's fine!" exclaimed the passenger, as he climbed out of the cockpit the second time. "That's the way I like to ride!"—Indianapolis News.

GOT FACTS SLIGHTLY MIXED

Representative Osborne Evidently Had Not Taken Keen Notice of Position of Sherman Statue.

One of the best speeches in the house in years came from Representative Osborne of California the day of the Pershing parade, says the Los Angeles Times. Having been one of the soldiers who marched up Pennsylvania avenue at the close of the Civil war for a final review by General Sherman, he was able to draw a beautiful and striking contrast with the return of the veterans of 1919.

At one point in the address the representative spoke feelingly of how Sherman, at the head of the column, at Fifteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue had turned on his horse and looked back at the advancing veterans.

"Thus," said Mr. Osborne, "the figure of Sherman, cast in bronze, sits today at the head of Pennsylvania avenue, as he sat that day more than fifty years ago."

The reference to the Sherman statue aroused great interest and many were the pilgrimages made to the statue within the next few days to see how Sherman looked gazing down the avenue. But horror of horrors! It developed that Sherman was looking not toward the advancing column, but toward the White House, which stands in an opposite direction.

Now Osborne is looking for the man who placed it thus.

DRESSED FOR A PARTY

The pretty maid in the picture above is daintily dressed for a party. Upon an occasion of such importance as a birthday, even a little girl is allowed a frock of georgette crepe made with tucks in the skirt, sleeves and waist. Its special pride is narrow ribbon tied in little bows that finish bands about the sleeves and long and short ends that hang from the waist. Faltie ribbon, in two colors, is used for girdles that tie near the front and have small bows with long ends. Sometimes one of the ribbons matches the dress in color, or both ribbons may differ from it so long as the contrast is pretty.

LIGHTS OF IMMENSE POWER

Beys From Points on United States Coast Are Visible Seventy Miles Out at Sea

The highest beacon light maintained by the United States for warning navigators is at Cape Mendocino, Cal., 422 feet above sea level. It has a range of 28 miles.

The brightest light and one of the most brilliant in the world is at Navesink, N. J., on the Highlands at the entrance of New York bay. It is 250,000,000 candle power and its glare has been seen from 70 miles out in the ocean.

The largest lighthouse "Jens" is at Mackapuu point, on the island of Oahu (Hawaii group). Its beam at night brings first news to voyagers from the United States that they are nearing the mid-Pacific archipelago. It is called a "hyperarchlight." The inside diameter of the lens being about nine feet and that of the glass lantern enclosing it 16 feet.

The lens of the Navesink light incloses a powerful electric arc. But, generally speaking, kerosene is the preferred illuminant for many lighthouses.

A lens frequently is built up of glass prisms arranged in panels, the object being to concentrate the light into a beam of maximum brilliancy and range. Some lighthouse lenses are so arranged as to revolve, a contrivance of the sort, weighing perhaps 6,000 pounds, being floated upon mercury and thereby turned so easily that a small bit of clockwork actuated by a 100-pound weight will operate it.

Billions of Pins and Needles.

Fourteen billion ordinary toilet pins are produced by American factories annually. American mothers also find it necessary to purchase 720,000,000 safety pins every year.

The yearly crop of metal hairpins is a billion and a quarter.

Needles of all kinds aggregate 235,000,000 every 12 months. The value of this pin and needle crop is $13,000,000 at the factory. Forty-nine factories are engaged in the manufacture of the articles, the total capitalization being $9,424,000.

In 1850 there were only four pin factories in the United States, having a combined capital of $164,000 and a combined annual product of 297,550 pins. It will thus be seen that the growth of this industry is something tremendous.

VAST RICHES IN OLD MINES

Wealth Awaits Lucky Prospector Who Can Find One, Though Many Are Known to Exist.

We are all familiar with Sir Rider Haggard's "King Solomon's Mines" nor was he by any means the first to put forward the theory, though in a romance, that many old and but half-worked mines might yet await the patient toll of the searcher. Except in cases where there had been long-continued use, it is not at all improbable that there are ancient mines ready to reward the intelligent methods of today. But now in Idaho, we are told, "the lost" gold mine of the Upper Salmon river district has been rediscovered. A rich ledge had been found by two prospectors and worked by them a little; then they fell out and a Spokane policeman, who had the secret from one of them, sought the mine for 20 years; then he fell out, and now it has been found new, to enrich the finders, for the ledge proper is said to be from four to six feet wide with a rich quartz streak that shows the gold shining in its grasp. The gold has always been there and somebody for many years has believed it to be there; it only needed to be found to add another to the romances of fact.

Will Use Rifles of Veterans.

Rifles that were actually used by United States marines against the Huns in France at Belleau wood, Solismus, St. Mihiel, Champagne or in the Argonne will be issued to recruits who never saw a fight when the big job just begun at the marine corps depot of supplies at Chicago is finished.

All the rifles used by marines in France have been turned in at the depot to be refinished and repaired. So well did their bearers care for them that most of them can be used again.

When they come out of the gunshop as good as new they will be issued to recruits, who will be inspired by the knowledge that they carry the same rifles that were used in the world war.

If You Do Not Appoint An Executor

The court will appoint a person to settle the estate, known as an administrator. The person appointed may be an absolute stranger to your family and probably not such a man as YOU would choose for such an important work.

Do you realize the importance on making your will and naming an EXECUTOR?
